POLICIES, PROCEDURES, AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE ESTABLISHMENT AND OPERATION OF THE PROGRAM OF COMPREHENSIVE COMMUNITY COLLEGES AS AUTHORIZED BY THE 1966 GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

This statement of policies, procedures, and regulations shall supersede all previous statements of policies, procedures, and regulations for Community Colleges.

Wherever the words "State Board" are used in this document, they shall mean the State Board for Community Colleges.

Purpose

In accordance with an act of the General Assembly (Title 23, Chapter 16, Sections 23-214 through 23-231), the State Board for Community Colleges shall establish, control, administer, and supervise all community colleges established by the State in selected communities throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The Community College Program shall be designed to serve the educational needs of qualified post-high school age youth and adults in order to prepare them for employment, for advanced collegiate education, and for improved citizenship.

Definition of a Community College

A Community College means a comprehensive institution of higher education offering programs of instruction generally extending not more than two years beyond the high school level, which shall include, but not be limited to, courses in occupational and technical fields, the liberal arts and sciences, general education, continuing adult education, pre-college and pre-technical preparatory programs, special training programs to meet the economic needs of the region in which the college is located, and other services to meet the cultural and educational needs of this region.

Naming of Institutions

In the name of each institution shall be included the phrase "Community College". The local advisory board shall submit their recommended name to the State Board for Community Colleges for final approval.

Types of Programs

Each curriculum in the Community College shall conform to the statewide criteria set by the State Board as to content, but shall take into consideration the needs and opportunities in the region served by each college. The State Board for Community Colleges shall set minimum standards and authorize issuance by institutions of appropriate associate degrees, certificates, and diplomas to individuals who satisfactorily complete the course and program requirements.

To avoid unnecessary duplication in an area where other educational agencies may be offering similar programs, the State Board for Community Colleges may enter into a cooperative agreement with an existing agency to provide one or more of the programs listed below.

In determining the curricula to be offered in each institution under the jurisdiction of the State Board for Community Colleges, the State Board shall take cognizance of the varying needs of the communities served throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia and the substantiated requests of interested local governing bodies, employers, and individuals. These programs shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

A. Occupational-Technical Education

The occupational and technical education programs shall be designed to meet the increasing demand for technicians, semiprofessional workers, and skilled craftsmen for employment in industry, business, the professions, and government. These programs, which normally require two years or less of training beyond the high school, may include preparation for agricultural, business, engineering, health and medical, industrial, service, and other technical and occupational fields. The curricula shall be planned primarily to meet the needs for workers in the region being served by the Community College, but the State Board may designate certain community colleges as centers to serve larger areas of the State in offering expensive and highly specialized occupational and technical education programs.

B. University Parallel-College Transfer Education

The university parallel-college transfer programs shall include college freshman and sophomore courses in arts and sciences and preprofessional programs meeting standards acceptable for transfer to baccalaureate degree programs. These programs shall be of equal grade and quality to those provided in the four-year degree granting institutions in order to facilitate the transfer of students from the community college to four-year colleges and universities.

C. General Education

The programs in general education shall encompass the common knowledge, skills, and attitudes needed by each individual to be effective as a person, a member of a family, a worker, a consumer, and a citizen. The general education program shall include the basic courses required of all students in the occupational and technical education program and in the university parallel or college transfer program.

D. Continuing Adult Education

Adult education programs shall be offered to enable the adults in the region to continue their learning experiences. This work may include both degree credit and non-degree credit work offered during the day and evening hours.

E. Special Training Programs

Special training may be provided where specific job opportunities are available. This special training shall be coordinated with Virginia's economic expansion efforts and with the needs of prospective or established employers. Instruction shall be designed to assist Virginia residents in gaining skills necessary for entering employment and/or to retrain persons displaced from other jobs so that they may obtain gainful employment. Such special training programs shall be terminated at that point where the learning of skills ends and the development of speed in these skills begins. These programs, which are usually of a short term nature, shall be tailored to fit the exact needs of a company and shall terminate when known new employment needs are met and when the primary objective stated above has been met. The training sites for these programs may be any suitable space within the Commonwealth of Virginia approved by the State Department of Community Colleges.

F. Preparatory Programs

Pre-college and pre-technical programs shall be offered to help prepare individuals for admission to the university parallel-college transfer program and the occupational-technical program in the community college. These programs shall be designed to help the individual develop the basic skills and understandings necessary to succeed in other community college programs.

G. Specialized Regional and Community Services

The facilities and personnel of each community college shall be available to provide specialized services to help meet the cultural and educational needs of the region served by the community college. This service includes programs not conducted in classrooms such as cultural events, workshops, meetings, lectures, conferences, seminars, and special community projects which are designed to provide needed cultural and educational opportunities for the citizens of the region. The community college shall work cooperatively with other local and state agencies interested in developing such services. The community college facilities shall also be available insofar as possible to four-year colleges and universities desiring to offer extension programs at the level of the third and fourth year of college and of graduate education in the region, subject to the prior approval of the State Council of Higher Education.

H. Area Vocational and Technical Schools

All educational programs for post-high school age youth and adults in existing area vocational and technical schools formerly under the State Board of Education are now the responsibility of the State Board for Community Colleges until such time as new community colleges are established in such areas and these programs are transferred to these new community colleges.

Coordination by the State Council of Higher Education

The State Board shall encourage close articulation of the Community College program with other institutions of higher education and shall adhere to the policies of the State Council of Higher Education for the coordination of all programs of higher education throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Facilities for extension work may be provided in accordance with Section 23-221 of the Code of Virginia which states ". . . In any area served by a comprehensive community college, no institution of higher learning which conducts extension programs shall offer courses of study similar to those offered by a comprehensive community college, except as authorized by the State Council of Higher Education. Whenever practicable, the State Board shall provide facilities to such institutions of higher learning for conducting extension programs not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter."

Eligibility of Students

A. General Statement

The community college shall be designed to serve all youth and adults who can benefit from one of its programs.

B. General Admission

Eligible for general admission to the community college are persons who are high school graduates, or the equivalent, or who are at least eighteen years of age, and are in any case able to benefit from a program at the community college. Other persons may apply to the admissions committee of the community college for special consideration for admittance to the community college.

C. Admission to Specific Programs

Applicants also may be required to meet other reasonable criteria for admission to any program or course within the community college to insure that they possess the potential to meet program requirements subject to approval by the State Board. Persons who do not meet the admission requirements for a specific program or course may be permitted to enroll in preparatory studies or advised to enroll in other programs.

In addition, persons applying to enter one of the associate degree programs shall be a high school graduate or the equivalent or have completed an approved preparatory program.

D. Full-time and Part-time Students

Persons are eligible to participate in the community college programs on either a full-time or part-time basis.

Length of Term and Attendance Day

A. Quarter System

The community colleges shall operate on a quarter system on a year-around schedule as established by the State Board for Community Colleges. Four quarters per year shall be the normal pattern.

B. Short Term Programs

Special programs on a short term basis may be offered with the prior approval of the State Department of Community Colleges.

C. Day and Evening Programs

Instruction for students shall be offered in the community colleges in day and evening programs.

D. Availability of Facilities

Normally, the facilities will be in use for full day and evening programs of the community college for six days per week (Monday through Saturday). Insofar as possible and practicable, the facilities may be available for community use.

Establishment of Community Colleges

A. Authority of State Board

The State Board for Community Colleges shall have final authority to determine the number, name, and location of colleges approved.

B. Responsibility for Initiating Requests

The responsibility for initiating a request for establishment of a community college rests with the governing body (s) of the political subdivision (s) to be served by such a college.

C. Application Form

The governing body (s) of the political subdivision (s) shall submit to the State Board for Community Colleges an application for a community college on a form approved by the State Department of Community Colleges and duly signed by the chairman of the governing body (s) concerned.

This application shall present evidence of specific need for a community college as certified by a State Department of Community College survey of the educational and occupational needs of the region to be served by the community college.

D. State Plan

All community colleges shall be established in accordance with a state plan for the establishment of community colleges. The State Department of Community Colleges shall be responsible for conducting studies periodically to evaluate the need for community colleges in the various regions of the state.

E. Criteria for Establishment of Community Colleges

Before a community college may be approved by the State Board for Community Colleges, a survey under the supervision of the State Department of Community Colleges shall be conducted to determine:

1. Evidence of Need as Shown by a Survey. The region to be served by a community college shall show evidence of the need for a community college and a continuing opportunity for placement of a sufficient number of graduates in employment and in four-year colleges and universities to justify the programs. A community must show need of five or more curricula in order to be sufficiently large to warrant administrative cost and adequate counseling. As a general standard, there shall be a minimum population of 100,000 in the region requesting the community college.

2. Evidence of Interest on the Part of Employers. For the program of occupational and technical education to be successful in the long run, employers in the region to be served by the community college should show an active interest in the development of curricula which reflect local needs and show a capacity to employ graduates.

   Active participation on the part of local leaders is important in gaining acceptance for employment of community college graduates, and in encouraging present employees in the region to use the community college facilities in order to develop additional skills and to keep abreast of changes in technology affecting their jobs.

3. Evidence of Student Interest. As a general standard, an area served by a community college shall have graduating from its secondary schools 1,000 or more students per year. Evidence shall indicate that from the number of current high school graduates and the number of interested adults in the area served, those who can be expected to attend the proposed community college will be sufficient to assure a student body of at least 500 full-time equivalent students at the community college within four years of its establishment.

F. Provisions of a Suitable Site

The governing body (s) of the political subdivision (s) applying for a community college shall provide sufficient land, both for the initial establishment of the college and for future expansion, acceptable to the State Board for Community Colleges including all improvements thereon (i.e., roads, exterior lighting, parking lots, landscaping, all utilities to point of connection to buildings, et cetera) subject to the policies, procedures, and regulations of the State Board for Community Colleges.

The State Board for Community Colleges may seek the advice of site consultants and shall select the site (s) of the community college in each region from several sites recommended. The guidelines for a site for a community college are as follows:

1. Size of Site. As a general standard, the site shall consist of 100 or more acres (with prior approval of the State Board for Community Colleges, a smaller acreage may be acceptable in special circumstances). All sites shall become the property of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

2. Utilities on Site. The site shall have all major utilities made available on the site to point of connection on the buildings.

3. Access to Site. The site shall be located on or sufficiently near major highways so that the residents of the region will have easy access to the community college.

4. Location of Site. The site shall be located as near as possible to the center of population of the region being served considering both present and potential developments.

Establishment of Special Training Programs

A. Application for Program

Any community which has sufficient job opportunities for which local residents could qualify, if properly trained, may apply for a special training program under the jurisdiction of the State Board in accordance with the procedures specified by the State Board.

B. Use of State-Owned Equipment

Suitable equipment owned or rented by the State Board may be transferred for special training programs. Equipment and other assistance may be furnished on a loan basis by prospective employers to the State Board for special training purposes.

Administrative Relationships and Responsibilities

Nothing in this chapter shall preclude any other agency, board or officer of the State from being designated as the directing or allocating agency, board or officer for the distribution of federal grants-in-aid or the performance of other duties to the extent necessary to qualify for and to receive grants-in-aid for programs and institutions under the administration of the State Board for Community Colleges.

h) The Director is authorized to receive, for and on behalf of the State and its subdivisions, from the United States and agencies thereof, and from any and all other sources, grants-in-aid and gifts, made for the purpose of providing, or to assist in providing, any vocational and technical, or other, education or educational programs authorized by this chapter, including expenses of administration.
